Tom, I got your message. I regret the confusion—there was a rush on the original version of the RTC, Sarah sent a half finished version for Pekin, then sent a completed version later, but I'm not sure the HQ version ever incorporated that final version.

I am attaching the R5 version of the RTC as we now have it. Besides Pekin, the main things we've changed are and the Pekin change. So, yes, check to see if all of it is up-to-date, but those are the sections I would focus on.

John,

Sorry. This is what Rhonda sent me. I'm copying Rhea and her people to make sure they have this version

For starters we need to be looking at the current version. We sent down an updated version; I'm not sure why an old version stayed in circulation. The newer version at least addresses Mike's editorial question. I'm rushing this off before a 9 CDT call, so I haven't checked whether it addresses Scott's concern.
